

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO LAW SCHOOL

UChicago Law and Economics Lecture Series

Paris 2018: The Regulation of Consumer Markets

June 25-29, 2018

*The University of Chicago
Center in Paris*

www.law.uchicago.edu/events/paris-2018

Bringing UChicago's Best Ideas
in Law and Economics to Europe

CURRICULUM

The program for the UChicago Law and Economics Lecture Series will have five topics and several special events. Each topic will include three hours of lectures, all in English.

2018 Lecture Topics

Regulatory Techniques in Consumer Protection

Professor Omri Ben-Shahar,
Kearney Faculty Director of the Coase-Sandor Institute

Redistribution Through Regulation

Professor Daniel Hemel

Behavioral Law and Economics in Consumer Markets

Professor Jonathan Masur

Information and Big Data in Private Law

Professor Ariel Porat

Internet Regulation

Professor Randal Picker

Special Events

Information about special events is forthcoming. Refer to the website for updates.

Programming made possible through the generous gift of Bryant and Linda Edwards with support from the Coase-Sandor Institute.

Cost

$2000USD (includes all lectures and special events, five nights hotel stay, lunch and light refreshments)

$1250USD (without the hotel)

*Costs do not include transportation.

*Tuition reduction for demonstrated need available.

*Limited fellowships available.

This is an intensive lecture series. We also offer an annual, two-week Summer Institute for Law and Economics. For more info on the two-week Summer Institute go to law.uchicago.edu/lawecon/summerinstitute.

Email Ms. Curtrice Scott, Director of the Coase-Sandor Institute at curtrice@uchicago.edu, with questions.

COASE-SANDOR INSTITUTE FOR LAW AND ECONOMICS
THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO LAW SCHOOL